CONTROLLER FIX

For the controller fix, you're gonna need to copy the VDF files in the game directory, all of the "steam_input", after this, paste them into steam folder the default directory is "C:\Program Files (x86)\Steam\controller_base\templates".

After this, go back to the steam root folder ("C:\Program Files (x86)\Steam"), and create a folder named "controller_config", after this paste "steam_input_manifest.vdf" to the newly created folder, and rename it to "game_actions_480.vdf".

Once you're done with that restart steam, go to the steam, on the Spacewar game go into the controller options and change the preset, in the template tab, it should have a controller with a blank name(or "ELDEN RING NIGHTREIGN Official Settings"), in case it doesn't appear, press "Show all layouts".

Once the blank layout is selected, the game should recognize your controller.

(Also, take in mind that all Steam fixes with Spacewar will use Nightreign controller config)

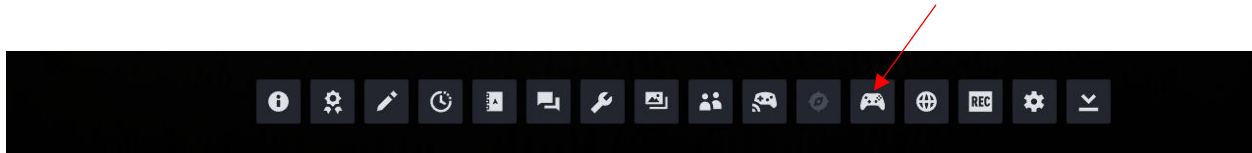

Or watch video <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6G1kECiwTvk> and do respective things.
